

OUR TOP 7 INTERVIEW TIPS AND TRICKS

RESEARCH THE COMPANY BEFORE THE INTERVIEW.

Companies want to know why you're interested in them!

You need to know about exactly what they do and what their ethics are in order to show that you are a very interested candidate and a good fit for the job.

MAKE SURE YOU HAVE ALL THE APPROPRIATE DOCUMENTS WITH YOU

Before you leave the house, make sure you have all the documents you need. This could include CV copies (recommended) and any other documentation.

Companies will usually inform you should you need to bring specific documents.

ARRIVE EARLY

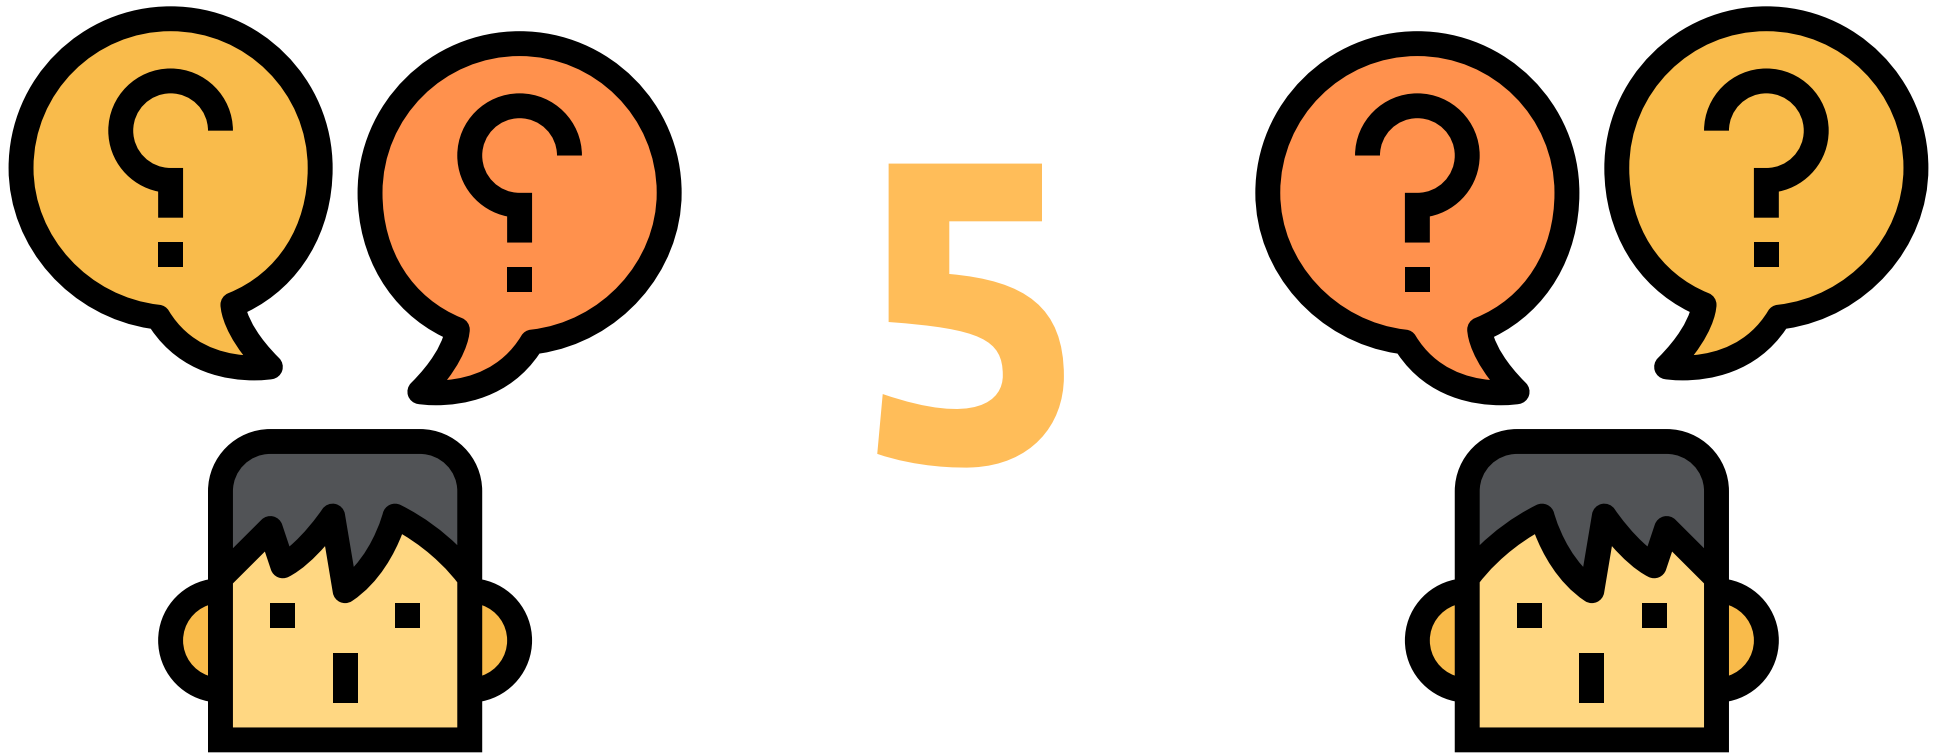

Arrive approximately 10–15 minutes early. This gives you time to become comfortable and familiarise yourself again with any relevant material you have on hand.

Arriving early shows to the employer that you are trustworthy and have good time keeping skills.

BODY LANGUAGE IS IMPORTANT

Body language is one of the most important things to consider when you are in an interview. Remember to keep eye contact with your interviewer (you can look at them on the nose or bridge of the eye if direct eye contact makes you uncomfortable), this shows you're engaging and confident. Make sure that you sit up straight to show professionalism and engagement in the conversation; don't slouch or lean back.

PRACTICE QUESTIONS

There are so many websites that offer interview practice questions you can take. Practicing questions (general or ones you think they may ask) is important to prepare you to answer them smoothly and confidently in real life. They will give you a sense of confidence in your interview when answering similar questions, as you have already drafted responses to guide you along the way.

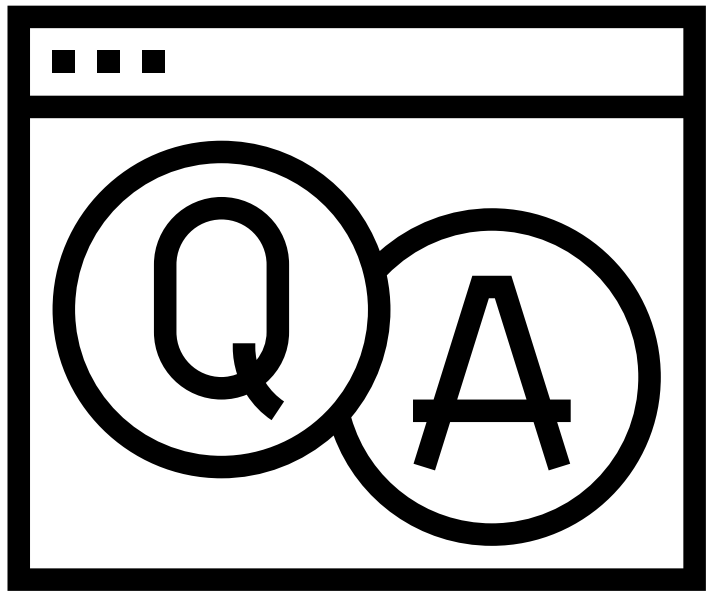

6

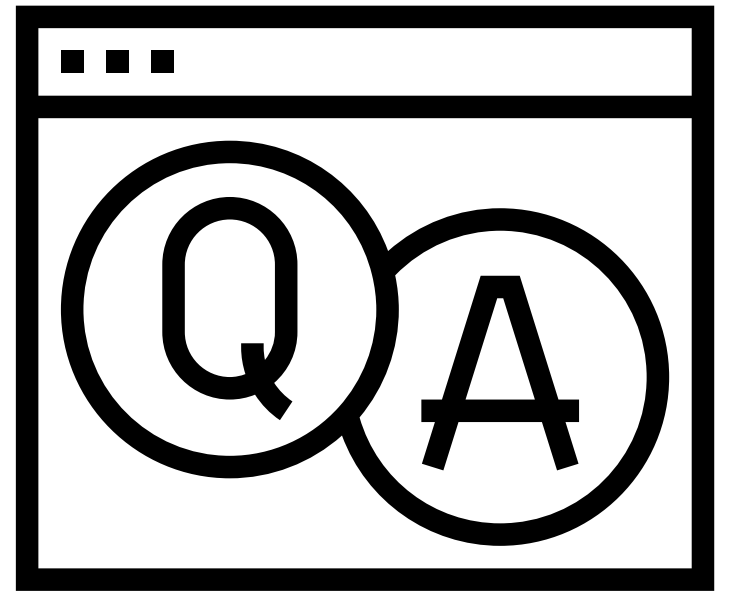

DRESS APPROPRIATELY

Do not wear clothes that are too revealing. Try to stick to clothes that are stylish but comfortable without exposing too much skin. Should you be given the job you would be representing the company and they want to make sure their image is protected. Some people even have a set 'interview outfit' which can be worn to any interview and saves money from having to buy multiple outfits.

7

PREPARE QUESTIONS FOR AFTER THE INTERVIEW

You will always be given an opportunity to ask the interviewer questions at the end. Use this moment as an excuse to further show your interest in the company, and the answers to your questions can also give you better an idea of if you would like to work at the company as well.

E.g. What does the training and development program look like in your company? What makes the most successful people in your company so successful? What are the opportunities for career progression?
